(d) To catalyse increase in PC ownership a number of steps have been taken by the Government as per details given in the Statement [Refer to the statement appended to the Answer to Unstarred Question No. 1565 (c)]

Use of Linux Operating System

1574. SHRI S.M. LAL JAN BASHA: Will the Minister of COMMUNICATIONS AND INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY be pleased to state:

(a) whether Government have received specific representations from social activists demanding that greater emphasis be given to the use of 'Linux' operating systems in the country;

(b) whether it is a fact that Linux system would be cheaper;

(c) whether any task force has been set up to encourage cheaper operating systems in the country;

(d) by when this task force would complete its work; and

(e) the steps proposed to ensure that the country get the cheapest software for its people?

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF COMMUNICATIONS AND INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY (SHRI S.U. THIRUNAVUKKARASAR): (a) No, Sir.

(b) Linux is an open source Operating System, distributed under general Public License (GPL) and its source code is freely available.

(c) No, Sir.

(d) Does not arise.

(e) Government's main concern is that needs of all sections of the society are adequately met in terms of quality functionality and price. Government is also keen that local content is available in all the solution providers.